

Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS) Non-Pharmacological Treatment – Quality

Release Date: May 20, 2019

Expiration Date: December 31, 2021

References

Grossman MR, et al. A Novel Approach to Assessing Infants with NAS. Hospital Pediatrics, 2018; 8(1):1-6

Grossman MR, et al. A Novel Approach to Assessing Infants with NAS. Hospital Pediatrics, 2018; 8(1):1-6.

Howard MB, et al. Impact of Parental Presence at Infants' Bedside on NAS. Hospital Pediatrics, 2017; 7(2):63-69.

MacMillan KDL, et al. Association of Rooming-In with Outcomes in NAS: Systematic Review and Meta-analysis. JAMA Pediatrics, 2018; 172(4):345-351.

Neonatal Quality Collaborative of Massachusetts: <https://www.neoqicma.org/substance-exposed-newborns>.

Wachman EM, et al. Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome: Advances in Diagnosis and Treatment. JAMA, 2018; 319(13):1362-74.

Wachman EM, et al. Quality Improvement Initiative to Improve Inpatient Outcomes for NAS. J Perinatology, 2018; 38(8): 1114-1122.